

Membership - Danish Lighting Center

Support Danish Lighting Center (Dansk Center for Lys) by becoming member.

The Danish Lighting Center is an independent association for lighting people in Denmark as well as a knowledge centre. The centre was founded in 1948, and the object of the centre is to promote the use of good and appropriate lighting. We strive to advance knowledge and to disseminate information for improvement of the lighted environment to the benefit of society. Practically all major players in the Danish Lighting business are members, as well as many architects and decision makers from municipalities. Our members focus on keeping knowledge up-to-date as well as networking and product positioning.

Danish Lighting Center organises conferences and education on many levels.

Furthermore, the independent hardcopy magazine LYS ("Light") is distributed to all members and subscribers 4 times a year. LYS is a journal for architects, lighting planners, designers, technicians, engineers, light and lamp manufacturers, training centres, research institutions, local and public authorities etc. LYS is the only specialised Lighting magazine in Denmark and has a well-established name. Subjects in LYS are special reports and project descriptions concerning lighting design and architecture, planning, technology and research.

The following membership conditions are valid as off 1st January 2018.

Personal membership

Lighting magazine "LYS"	Members receive a hardcopy of LYS 4 times per year. All members may also get free publicity in LYS under the subjects Lysglimt (Glimpses of Light), Navnenyt (news about lighting people) and Produktnyt (product news)
Knowledge and networking	Members are up-to-date with major national and international lighting events. Members have opportunities to get the latest information, to keep track main market players and to keep knowledge up to date. In meetings and conferences members may build links with customers, suppliers and knowledge people.
Standardisation	DCL represents Danish viewpoints on lighting quality in Danish Standards, CIE and in other contexts.
Local member meetings	Members gain access to local member meetings (members only pay direct costs), and may experience the newest lighting projects and hear how architects, installers and engineers approached the practical solutions.
Conferences and courses	Members gain access to DCL conferences at special rate, including the major biannual lighting event LYSETS DAG (Lighting Day).
Advice and guidance	Members can (to a limited extent) get advice and guidance - or reference to other knowledge people in DCL's large networks.
Prices	Personal membership costs DKK 1,500 + VAT annually. Students (UngtLys/Young Light-members) pay only DKK 350 incl. VAT annually, while retirees pay DKK 400 incl. VAT annually.
